3 October 2010 Paintings in Hertfordshire

This lecture examines examples of some of the many fine paintings held in public ownership in Hertfordshire and aims to encourage you to explore and enjoy the works with more knowledge and understanding.

6 November 2010 Not the Golden Mean

The Golden Mean, or Golden Section, has been a guiding compositional principle for artists for more than two millennia. Here we see how more recent artists have used other techniques to offer pleasing compositions.

12 February 2011 The Glasgow Boys and the Scottish Colourists

Following the great Scottish Romantic painters, a diverse group known as The Glasgow Boys revolutionised painting towards the end of the 19th Century. As the group dispersed, four artists who were to become known as the Scottish Colourists became their natural successors. Here we enjoy their range of styles.

5 March 2011 Art of Oak 1

A rich mixture of landscapes, seascapes, portraits and interiors feature in these British paintings from the mid 18th to mid 19th centuries.

2 April 2011 Art of Oak 2

Continuing the theme of paintings by British artists, this series shows works from the mid 19th to mid 20th centuries.
